

MARCH MADNESS 2008

Fantastic
Alumni
News!

MKLL is proud to recognize

Taj Finger...

He is playing in the NCAA sweet sixteen for Stanford. He played on Elks in 1996 -1998 and was on their undefeated team in 98. He also played for Fox Lane in the State Final Four Class A in 2004 and because of his leadership the Fox Lane Basketball Team received the first ever High School Sportsmanship Award for Section 1 NYS.

On the official Stanford web site Taj describes his most memorable athletic moment as "pitching and winning the championship game in Little League baseball. I struck out the final batter for the win."

- ◆ He is the Captain on a top 10 National ranked team.
- ◆ He got a scholarship for academics, not sports.
- ◆ Interviews with the Head Basketball Coach for Stanford names Taj as one of the most intelligent student/athletes he has ever coached.
- ◆ Because of his strong leadership and work ethic, he has gained the respect of the younger players.
- ◆ He plays quality minutes and is known around the league as one of the most solid defensive players and rebounders in the nation.

Taj will be playing in the Sweet Sixteen this week and the MKLL wishes him well.

HE IS ONE OF OURS!!!!!!

Mr. Reilly

Stanford's Taj Finger reacts in the closing second of the championship game against UCLA in the Pac-10 Conference at the Staples Center in Los Angeles Saturday, March 15, 2008. UCLA won 67-64. (AP Photo/Kevork Djansezian)